

Learnpot is E-learning platform for employees which enables to take online courses according to there available time and improve there skills.

Brief

Online learning provides flexibility in terms of when and where employees can access training. Employees can complete training at their own pace, and from any location with an internet connection, which can be particularly useful for remote or distributed teams. Also allow companies to create and deliver customized training content that is tailored to the specific needs of their employees, which can help to improve engagement and learning outcomes.

Dashboard

Provides users with an overview of their progress and performance. The dashboard should be intuitive, user-friendly, and visually appealing, making it easy for users to quickly access the information they need.

UI Grid system

A grid system provides greater flexibility and consistency in designing responsive layouts for websites and applications.
